A man walks into a bank, pulls out gun, points it at the teller, and says, "Give me all the money or else you're geography!" The puzzled teller replies, "You mean to say 'or else you're history?' The man replies, "Eh, eh, don't try to change the subject!"

Little Johnny came home early from school and proudly but cautiously said to his mother, "I had a big fight with my classmate today. He called me a sissy."

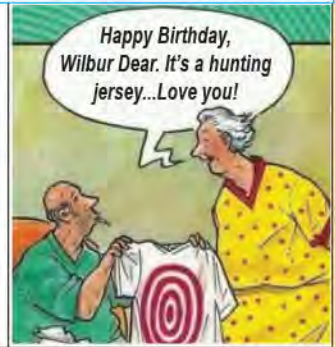

The mother asked, "That's not good son, so what did you do?" The boy replied, "I hit him with my handbag!"

The last year I entered a marathon. The race started and suddenly I was the last of the runners. It was really embarrassing. The guy who was in front of me, second to last, was making fun of me. He said, "Hey, you loser, how does it feel to be last?" I replied, "You really want to know?"

Then I dropped out of the race.

My wife cooks for me like I'm a god—by placing burnt offerings before me every night.

I just read that 4,137 people got married last year. Not to cause any trouble, but shouldn't that be an even number?
